There are many definitions for love, and probably all of them are somehow right. I have chosen this poem because I think it expresses love in a very special way:

What is love, but an emotion so strong and so pure, that nurtured and shared with another all tests it will endure?

What is love, but a force to bring the mighty low, with the strength to shame the mountains and hall time's ceaseless flow?

What is love, but a triumph, a glorious goal attained, the union of two souls, two hearts a bond the angels have ordained?

What is love, but a champion, to cast the tyrant from his throne, and raise the flag of truth and peace, and fear of death overthrow?

What is love, but a beacon, to guide the wayward heart, a blazing light upon the shoals that dash cherished dreams apart?

And what is love, but forever, eternal and sincere,
a flame that through wax and wane will outlive life's brief years?

So I'll tell it on the mountaintops, in all places high and low, that love for you is my reason to be,
and will never break or bow.
- Matt Dubois -
