Eden Autism Services Speech and Language Curriculum (Eden Autism Services School Series) Eden Faculty

This curriculum series reflects the collective experience of Eden faculty during the past 30 years of providing comprehensive, individualized services for children and adults with autism. Employing a hands-on approach, the series includes practical strategies with every teaching program provided, and each program has been successfully implemented in the lives of individuals and families served by Eden.

The Speech and Language Volume was developed to specifically address the unique speech, language and communication needs of students with autism spectrum disorder. The task analyzed presentation of teaching programs affords therapists the opportunity to teach skills in a systematic, concrete manner which clearly supports learning. As with all domains, it is essential that Learning Readiness skills be well established prior to expanding speech, language and communication skills. It is also crucial to ensure that all mastered teaching programs are fully generalized to the natural setting. When a student performs a skill spontaneously and in its natural context, one can be sure that the student “owns” the skill.
